THOMAS WILL FACE A JURY ON MONDAY

Man Who Shot Younger Brother By Mistake Will Be Given Trial—Greatest Sympathy Expressed for Parents.

On Monday, Dec. Thomas, formerly a deputy sheriff in this county, will be placed on trial for his life, charged with the murder of his younger brother, Southard, in Upper Tombstone Canyon a little over three months ago. It is understood the defense will admit the killing and plead extenuating circumstances, claiming that the entire matter was a horrible mistake. The defendant has been out on bond for about two months.

About three months ago the entire community was shocked when it was learned one night that Dec. Thomas, who had been discharged from his office as night watchman for the local merchants and gone to work in the valley, had hidden into the city and shot and killed his younger brother, Thomas, who was placed under arrest by Deputy Sheriff Bill White and Deputy Marshal Johnson.

After being lodged in jail Thomas stated that he had hidden in from Harford to kill another man, suspecting the latter and his wife. He stated that he was blinded with jealousy and shot through the window, after which the first thing he heard was his wife screaming, "My God, Dec, you've killed Southard."

To a Review representative Thomas stated in the branch county jail that he would rather have killed himself than his younger brother. The boy happened to have gone over from the father's house to Dec's residence a few minutes before the fatal shot was fired, to get some business.

Thomas afterward apologized publicly to the man whom it had been his intention to kill, and blamed himself for allowing his jealousy to lead him into such an awful predicament.

The community felt the greatest sympathy for Charles N. Thomas, the father of the murderer and of the boy who was murdered. He is an old timer in the county and has brought his family up from childhood without the slightest stain ever attaching to the family record. The reason of the mother was almost unscathed by the tragedy.

Thomas waived preliminary examination and was taken to Tombstone, shortly after which he was released on bond and has since been at liberty.

LIGGETT PASSES OVER THE DIVIDE

Old-Timer in Cochise County Dies in Los Angeles After Protracted Illness.

Word was received in the city yesterday that the effect that William Liggett, one of the old-timers of Cochise county, had died in Los Angeles early in the morning, as the result of a protracted illness. The body has been taken charge of at the coast by the Elks' lodge, and the son of the deceased will leave this morning to bring the remains home.

About eight months ago William Liggett's wife died suddenly at their home in Naco, and since that time the hardy old pioneer never seemed to enjoy his usual vigorous health. A short time ago he felt bad and went into Los Angeles for a rest. He was taken ill, as a result of which he died. He leaves a son, William, Jr., and two daughters, one of whom is Mrs. Fred Brown, of Douglas. It is probable that the funeral will take place in this city, although no arrangements had been made up until late last night.

William Liggett came to the territory in the '70s, and settled in Cochise county. Long before there was a railroad into the Warren District, and when the mines were in their nothing but prospects, he operated a stage line between this point and Naco. In late years he was engaged in the transfer business in Cananea with his son. He was a charter member of the local lodge of Elks.

COURT HAS WARNED WAYWARD BOYS

One Boy Already Sent to Juvenile Court—Others Likely to Follow.

There is trouble ahead for some of the youngsters of the town, according to the talk that Judge Hogan is making. The remark was made about the sending of Willie Gibbs, aged 13, to appear before the juvenile court of Judge Dean. Gibbs was held on a charge of having sold a newspaper to a man and having received a dollar in payment therefor. He left to get the change but unlike the cat, failed to come back. The father of the boy is living in Bisbee.

The local court is not inclined to make trouble for the young fellows, as long as it can be reasonably avoided, but some of them who are allowed to run on the streets are making plenty of trouble for themselves, without any assistance from the court. It is to these that the judge wishes to give warning. And he declares that unless there is decided improvement in some of them they also will be sent up for an interview with Judge Dean.

KNIFE THURST PROVES FATAL TO VAL. SILVAS

Stabbed in Drunken Quarrel Thursday Night—He Succumbs To Injury—Assailant In Jail—City Employees.

Valentina Silvas died last night about 10 o'clock as the result of a knife wound alleged to have been received at the hands of a companion named Trinidad. The wound was received in a drunken quarrel which occurred Thursday night. Trinidad is in jail and was identified by Silvas as the man who stabbed him. The former will neither affirm nor deny that he is guilty.

The two Mexicans involved in the difficulty were both in the employ of the city in the scavenger department. Thursday they were paid their wages for a month's work, and at once proceeded to celebrate the occasion by getting drunk. According to the best information that can be obtained, they became involved in a quarrel about 11 o'clock that night and Silvas received a knife thrust just below the collar bone.

After having received the wound Silvas walked to his home on Naco road, and it is said notified two or three parties there that he had been stabbed and to get a doctor. This was not done, however, until the next morning, when about 5 o'clock a physician was called and the victim dressed in an examination showed that the knife had penetrated to the lungs, and that the chances of the patient for recovery were small.

It was not until about 9 o'clock this morning that the officers were notified of the occurrence. They at once set out and found Trinidad driving his car as usual, as though nothing had occurred. He was arrested by Constable Twomey and taken to jail. During the day he was several times identified by the wounded man as the one who was responsible for his injuries.

No arrangements have as yet been made for the disposition of the body of Silvas.

ELKS LODGE HONORS REV. HARVEY SHIELDS

Well Known Clergyman Voted Life Membership at Regular Meeting.

Last evening at the regular monthly meeting of the local lodge of Elks Rev. Harvey M. Shields, pastor of the local Episcopal church, was unanimously voted a life membership in the organization. He has been chaplain for several years past. This is a distinguished honor as there are only three life memberships in the local branch of the organization.

The members of No. 671 were prompted to vote the honor for the clergyman, because of his universal kindness during his residence in the district, and the fact that he will leave here shortly for some other field, owing to the poor health of one of his children.

Rev. Mr. Shields joined the local lodge a couple of years ago, and since that time has been a great favorite among the members because of his kindness of heart and absolute disregard of personal comfort in attending to the spiritual and temporal needs of those who have been in distress.

EDWARD H. SOTHERN.

Edward H. Sothern, the well known actor, was born in New Orleans, December 6, 1859. His father was Edward A. Sothern, the popular English comedian, and the younger Sothern's boyhood was spent in England. In 1875 he returned to America, and again in 1879. On the latter occasion he made his debut at the Park theater, New York, in support of his father. After that he spent several months in the Boston Museum stock company, then one of the most famous organizations of its kind in America. The following season he returned to England with his father. John McCullough there engaged the young man, and he returned with that tragedian to the United States. After his mother's death in 1882, he traveled with his brother, Lytton, in England, playing low comedy parts. The following year found him again in America and during the several seasons that followed he played in a number of different companies. He first took a leading role in the Lyceum theater stock company of New York in 1887. Since then he has starred successfully in a number of plays, among the best known of them being "Lord Chumley," "The Dancing Girl," "Captain Letterblair," "The Prisoner of Zenda," "Under the Red Robe," and "If I Were King."

Deaf Mute's Call For Help.

During a convention of deaf people one of the instructors told a funny story about a mishap to one of the inmates of an institution. The man was deaf and dumb and was employed about the grounds. One day while at work alone in a well he lost his balance and fell to the bottom. No one noticed his absence for several hours, and after a search he was discovered and rescued from his peril. Then it was found that he had worn his fingers to the bone in frantically calling for help in the sign language. Philadelphia Record.

IS PARDONED; NOW COMING TO BISBEE

Pardoned By Governor Hoch. Mrs. New Will Make Home With Her Sister in the Warren District.

According to advices received in the city, Mrs. Amelia New, of Kansas, who during the past week was released from the penitentiary after having served a portion of a life sentence for murder, will arrive in Bisbee within a short time, to make her future home with her sister, Mrs. Mary Kinsey. The evidence on which Mrs. New was convicted was entirely of a circumstantial nature, and Governor Hoch granted a pardon.

According to the evidence introduced at the trial of Mrs. New, the family was living on a farm and one evening she was busy undressing one of her children for bed when her husband was called to the door. He was shot and instantly killed. The wife ran to the nearest neighbors calling for help which was readily given.

There were various circumstances which led to the belief that the farm had been shot by his wife and she was arrested. In the prosecution the state built up a strong case of circumstantial evidence, contending that during a quarrel the woman had secured a shot gun and killed her spouse.

The case was so strong that a jury of twelve men were for conviction, and the defendant was sentenced to serve a life term in the penitentiary at Leavenworth. Strong influences were brought to bear and the case was called to the attention of Governor Hoch. After reviewing the evidence the chief executive came to the conclusion that it did not warrant a conviction and granted the pardon asked for.

Mrs. New was released from prison, and went to visit her brother in Hureka, Greenwood County, Kansas, where she announced she would make her future home in Arizona.

During her incarceration, the little money Mrs. New had was used up in attorneys' fees and other expenses.

PROFESSIONAL MEN FORM A NEW CLUB

Montezuma Club Will Have a Home in New Henniger-Johnson Building.

Within the past couple of days a number of local professional men have founded a social organization which will be known as the Montezuma Club, and have its home in the new Johnson-Henniger building on Main street, wherein apartments were secured. The new club starts with a rather large membership.

Already there are a couple of men's clubs in the city, as well as three organizations among the ladies of the district. A short time ago a number of professional men conceived the idea of bringing about an organization among themselves, and the new club is the result.

The Montezuma Club has a charter membership of twenty-one, and since its founding a number have joined, bringing the total up to about forty. A meeting was held, at which the following officers were elected, and will act during the ensuing year: Dr. F. E. Shine, president; Dr. C. L. Caven, vice-president; George H. Neale, secretary; and Homer T. Feaster, treasurer. In addition to these gentlemen several others were elected to act as a board of directors.

Several large rooms on the second floor of the Johnson-Henniger building have been leased, and will be utilized as club headquarters. The furnishings have already been ordered, and it is expected that the apartments will be ready for occupancy within a very short time.

The objects of the club are purely of a social nature, and will tend to make life in the Warren district more enjoyable.

CANANEA EXODUS STILL CONTINUES

Bisbee Visitor to Town Says Scores Are Leaving Daily. Business Good.

James Beard, the poultry man, has recently returned from a trip to La Cananea, where he has a business similar to the one at this point. While he has not closed his business at that point, Beard says that the Mexicans and others are leaving the camp almost as fast now as they did when the mines first shut down. On the day in which he was in Cananea, scores left on the train, and not a few in wagons. Most of these have become discouraged over prospects for an early resumption of operations.

Beard estimates that there are still about 5000 people in the town, the majority of whom have property there. Many of the Mexicans have valuable mining interests, while there are a great many ranches outside the town. Despite the unusual exodus of the inhabitants, Beard says there is still considerable amount of business done. Rents have come down to a fraction of what they were. The people who are staying are confident that the camp will resume operations in a comparatively short time.
